

Paper Chains

#tksclubbox

We loved making paper chains when we were small and I can remember sitting at the dining table licking the strips of sugar paper and stringing them together. They went out of fashion for a while but we've noticed that they now feature on many a lifestyle website. Not sugar paper though, obviously! We chose a seasonal blackbird print from the V&A by C.F.A Voysey (1918) and two Italian papers. Definitely posh paper chains.
